Miss Dibbern Hostess.

Miss Margaret Dibbern at her home in Milan was the hostess last evening to a small company of girl friends as a courtesy for several of the young women who are to leave the city soon to resume their school work and make their home. Representatives Welby, Ohio, and Blanton, Texas, Democrats, replied to Representative Murphy, declaring that Representative Kahn, Republican, California, was the champion of conscription. He defended the League of Nations as an instrument of peace.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Miss Katherine M. Spruce and some of the million fingerprints with which she is familiar.

Would you know your own fingerprint if you saw it? Or would you know the fingerprints of your family? Or all your friends?

Well, then, what would you think of a girl who could identify almost every fingerprint in a collection of 1,000,000? Miss Katherine M. Spruce, who is said to be one of the youngest fingerprint experts in the country and who is one of the very few women who have taken up such work, can do just that.

Miss Spruce works in the navy identification office in Washington which has the largest fingerprint record in the world, there being over a million fingerprints in the collection. She is able to identify any one fingerprint desired in five or six minutes which is quite an accomplishment considering the list of one million. In the whole million there are no two alike although some are much more easily identified than others on account of scars and odd marks, Miss Spruce claims.

The origin of the Sorosis, the oldest woman's club in this country, occurred in 1868, as a protest against the exclusion of women from a dinner given in honor of Ricks in New York.
